

A Foreign Affair

Forget chocolates and flowers – if you want to impress your loved one, plan an amorous escape. Here are our top 10 inspirational European hot spots for a perfect romantic getaway

BY HEIDI FULLER-LOVE

▼ GLOWING IN GLASGOW

Considering that the friars at the Blessed St John Duns Scotus church believe they have the bones of St Valentine himself, Glasgow has a strong claim to the title of City of Love. This cool city is chilly during winter, so stoke those fires of passion with a hearty smoked salmon breakfast at historic, chintz-bedecked hideaway The Willow Tea Rooms (97 Buchanan Street, tel: +44 (0)141 204 5242), then take a stroll through a profusion of plants and thought-provoking art in the Hidden Gardens (25A Albert Drive, tel: +44 (0)141 433 2722, www.thehiddengardens.org.uk). Tickle tastebuds with haggis pakora, Tibetan hotpot and other exotic delights at intimate Indian restaurant Kama Sutra (331 Sauchiehall Street, tel: +44 (0)141 332 0055) before cuddling up at Blythswood Square (11 Blythswood Square, tel: +44 (0)141 248 8888), the city's most luxurious spa hotel.